DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

The Examiner incorporates claims 65-74 to the elected Group I and Species A. However, the Examiner withdrew claims 5, 11, and 32 because they belong to a non-elected species. Therefore, claims 1-4, 6-10, 12-19, 20-24, 34-40 and 65-74 have been examined.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 3 recites the limitation "the spinal fixation plate" in line 2. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1, 2, 5-18, 32, 34-36 and 38-40 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-17, 25, 27 and 28-32 of copending Application No. 10/664,575. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the structure claimed is essentially identical with minor substitutions of terminology such a bore for pathway and the minor preamble difference of intended use as being for a "spinal plate" in the copending application, the applicant is respectfully reminded that intended use, as set forth in the claims, carries no weight in the absence of any distinguishing structure.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4, 6-10, 12-19, 21-23, 34-40, 65-68, 70, 71 and 74 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Landry et al US Patent 6,447,512 B1.

Landry et al discloses a guide device having at least one pair of thru bores comprising an elongated shaft (172) having a proximal end (174), a distal end (168), a guide member (100) coupled to the distal end of the shaft and including first and second pathways at least partially in communication with one another (see Fig. 20, showing element 104 in communication with each other by element 158 and by the distal end of element 100) and the distal end of the elongate shaft being offset from the first and second pathways (the elongated shaft is coaxial to the axis of element 114, therefore, the axis is offset from the first and second pathways because the three axes are parallel to each other. Therefore, the three axes are offset from each other). At least one alignment (116 & 114) element positioned distal of the guide member and a plurality of tabs (116 & 114).

Regarding claim 19, see element 158.

Regarding claims 21-22, see Open space between element 116 & 114 can be called a cut-out.

Claim 73 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sand US Patent 6,113,602.

Sand discloses a guide device having at least one pair of thru bores comprising an elongated shaft having a proximal end, a distal end, a guide member coupled to the distal end of the shaft and including first and second pathways at least partially in communication with one another. Finally, the guide member includes a first substantially C-shaped lateral sidewall and a second substantially C-shaped lateral sidewall (see Fig. 6).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 24, 69 and 72 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
